Wayne Risoli, managing shareholder of Chamberlain Hrdlicka:

Our production numbers for the first three quarters are at record levels. We consider it a good year if our numbers are 5% to 10% higher than the prior year.

Ours are now 18% above 2018.

Our numbers are up in all sections of the firm, which leads us to conclude that we are benefiting from the mega-mergers and rate increases quoted by those merged firms.

Our international tax and tax controversy sections are up 19%. We attribute much of this to the turmoil and uncertainty afoot in the business community.
