Chamberlain Hrdlicka Launches Immigration Blog

Immigration Practice launches Immigration Blog

March 19, 2021

Chamberlain Hrdlicka has launched its first-ever Immigration blog which will cover a broad cross-section of employment-related immigration issues, including immigrant and non-immigrant visas through the employer, business and investor categories; labor certifications and Department of Labor audits; as well as family-based immigration and U.S. citizenship matters. The blog will also provide updates on immigration law changes.

Recent topics, authored by Kisshia Simmons, the employer's immigration attorney, include H-1B and E visa programs as well as permanent labor certification (PERM) applications' audits. The blog can be accessed at www.chamberlainlaw.com/immigration.

Chamberlain Hrdlicka's immigration practice boasts considerable experience handling the entire spectrum of immigration matters for individuals, families and businesses both in the U.S. and abroad. The team has represented clients in all parts of the United States and in more than 100 countries. While the constant change in U.S. immigration laws presents challenges for many in this area of work, the team is at the forefront of this rapidly changing field of law. As members of the American Immigration Lawyers Association and founding members of IMMLAW, Chamberlain's immigration attorneys actively participates in the exchange of ideas and information in emerging areas so that the firm's clients can benefit from the most innovative techniques in the ever-changing immigration environment.
