Kellen Scott is a Shareholder in the firm and has proudly spent his entire professional career with the firm, focusing on employment and commercial litigation matters. Kellen also serves on the firm's Recruiting Committee.

In his employment practice, Kellen collaborates with employers of all sizes, from small startups and "mom and pop shops" to large domestic and international companies, advising clients on a wide variety of employment law matters and litigation avoidance. He has a broad range of experience that encompasses litigation, arbitration, and the defense of administrative charges involving numerous agencies. Kellen works with business owners and executives, in-house counsel, and human resources professionals to provide advice and help resolve issues that arise throughout the entire employment lifecycle, including recruitment, hiring, onboarding, performance evaluation, accommodation, corrective action, and separation from employment.

State and Federal Employment Claims: A significant part of Kellen's practice focuses on defending employers against complex state and federal claims related to discrimination, harassment, and retaliation, including claims under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, as well the Texas Labor Code.

Unfair Competition and Trade Secrets: Kellen also advises and represents employers with respect to laws governing restrictive covenant agreements and trade secrets. Kellen regularly drafts and negotiates executive employment contracts and noncompetition, nonsolicitation, and confidentiality agreements. He has prosecuted and defended restrictive covenant and trade secret litigation and arbitration, obtaining decisions granting injunctive relief on the plaintiff-side and denying injunctive relief on the defense-side. He also litigates claims related to such agreements, including claims for breach of contract, misappropriation of confidential information, theft of trade secrets, unfair competition, tortious interference, and breach of fiduciary duty.

M&A and Business Restructuring: Kellen assists employers and the firm's Business Transactions Group with employment law issues arising in the context of

- 2008 Emory Civil Rights and Liberties Moot Court Competition; Quarter-Finalist
- 2008 Rendigs National Products Liability Moot Court Competition; Semi-Finalist
- Order of the Lytae
- AmJur/CALI Award: Constitutional Law, Texas Trial & Appellate Procedure; Complex Litigation; Texas Criminal Procedure; and International Mediation

mergers and acquisitions, including conducting pre-acquisition due diligence and strategies to identify employment obligations and liabilities that may affect the value and structure of the transaction. Kellen regularly advises employers on issues arising from reductions-in-force, mass transfers of employees to different entities, and other business restructuring matters. This includes advice relating to compliance with various state and federal laws, including the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, state and local mini-WARN and notice statutes, the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act, and state and local laws impacting severance agreements.

Wage and Hour Law Defense: Kellen also defends employers against wage and hour claims filed under the Fair Labor Standards Act in individual and collective actions, addressing issues such as overtime disputes, misclassification of employees, and wage payment compliance.

General Commercial Litigation: In addition to his employment law practice, Kellen has extensive experience prosecuting and defending general commercial litigation matters. Kellen represents businesses of all sizes in a wide range of disputes, including breach of contract, business torts, and other complex commercial matters.

During law school, Kellen served as a brief writer and advocate for his law school's famed advocacy program. Kellen also worked as an Articles Editor, and was elected to the Law Review Board.
