Professional Liability Defense

Chamberlain Hrdlicka's professional liability attorneys have long defended physicians, practice groups, hospitals, nursing homes, long-term care facilities, and other health care providers in medical malpractice actions. In so doing, our attorneys have developed the skills and insight necessary to understand complex medical issues and damages claims, and possess the unique ability to successfully present these issues to a jury, judge, arbitrator or other authority. Along with these skills and insight, our professional liability group combines dedication, tenacity, and diligence in its trial preparation and defense of cases. While our trial attorneys are always prepared to aggressively defend our healthcare clients through verdict, if necessary, we also keenly recognize that it is in our clients' best interest to avoid a medical malpractice action by way of favorable settlement or alternative dispute resolution, when possible.

Because the firm's practice areas cover a wide range of services, Chamberlain Hrdlicka also has the unique capability of offering advice and representation regarding all legal concerns of the medical industry, including corporate, contract, tax, and employment issues.
