

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY

Fletcher Farley provides sound legal counsel and aggressive defense advocacy to professional and institutional clients whose careers, reputations, and livelihoods may be on the line as a result of a professional malpractice claim. Our attorneys possess substantial experience in disposition of such claims, including discreet and thorough investigations, zealous representation before professional boards and agencies, and trial of malpractice claims to jury verdict.

Fletcher Farley represents a broad range of licensed professionals, including:

- Health care professionals and institutions such as physicians, nurses, therapists, clinics, and hospitals
- Real estate professionals such as brokers, salespersons, and appraisers
- Financial, investment, and banking professionals
- Insurance professionals such as brokers and agents
- Lawyers
- Accountants

Our attorneys investigate, defend, and resolve a variety of civil and criminal issues and claims, including:

- Accusations of fraud, incompetence, and errors and omissions
- Accusations of breach of fiduciary duty
- Claims involving alleged mortgage fraud and illegal “flipping” schemes
- Claims involving broker/dealer offerings, private placement products, and financial planning services
- Injury and death claims
- Accusations of sexual misconduct
- Accusations of unfair claims practices
- Licensure and credentialing disputes
- Accusations of discrimination
- Billing disputes
