Gloria Solorzano focuses her practice on defense litigation where she is involved in a broad range of civil litigation matters including insurance defense, commercial litigation, tort litigation, and insurance coverage.

Gloria began her career practicing civil and commercial litigation in Dallas, Texas, where she focused her skills on representing corporate clients and adopted a strategic and client-centered approach.

Gloria earned her J.D., cum laude from UNT Dallas College of Law, where she served as a senior editor on Law Review and was invited to the Order of the Barristers for her exceptional advocacy skills. Before law school, Gloria interned for a district judge, where she solidified her passion for law and advocacy.

Outside of the office, Gloria loves spending time with her family and enjoys trying new restaurants around Dallas with friends.
