

Frank T. Mamat Earns Top 100 Honors

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 15, 2009

Lansing

The Michigan law firm of Foster, Swift, Collins & Smith, P.C. is pleased to announce that Frank T. Mamat, a prominent area labor attorney, has recently been named to the list of Top One Hundred Labor Attorneys in the United States for 2009, as compiled by Labor Relations Institute, Inc., a leading industry information source.

Inclusion on the list puts Mamat in the top one percent of labor attorneys in the U.S., making Mamat one of the most active attorneys representing companies in National Labor Relations Board-monitored elections.

Mamat made the elite list by being selected from more than 9,000 attorneys evaluated by Labor Relations Institute. The honor of "Top One Hundred" was determined by the number of NLRB elections in which each attorney provided representation and the success of those election outcomes.

"To be included in the Top One Hundred is a tremendous honor", according to LRI CEO Donald P. Wilson. "It acknowledges these attorneys' professionalism and long-term dedication to their clients."

Frank is admitted to practice law in Michigan, Florida, District of Columbia, United States Supreme Court, United States Court of Appeals-Six Circuit, United States District Court-Eastern District of Michigan, United States District Court-Northern District of Indiana, United States District Court-District of Columbia, and the United States Court of Appeals-District of Columbia Circuit.

Mr. Mamat is a member of the Federal, American, Michigan, Florida, and District of Columbia Bar Associations.

Frank earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Rochester and is a graduate of the Syracuse University College of Law.
