

Foster Swift Southfield Office Has Second Growth Spurt

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 18, 2017

For the second consecutive year, Foster Swift is adding five new attorneys to its Southfield office. Joining the firm September 18 are: Liam Healy, Matthew Fedor, Nicolas Camargo, Trevor Weston and Robert Hamor.

Last year, Foster Swift moved its Farmington Hills office to Southfield in July. With these five new additions, Foster Swift has 28 total attorneys practicing in the Southfield office and is expanding to occupy the remainder of the fifth floor.

"We are excited to grow our Business, Employee Benefits and Estate Planning services in Southeast Michigan," says Foster Swift president Mike Sanders. "Michigan companies are recognizing the benefit of using skilled attorneys as trusted advisors to grow their businesses and be strategic about personal and professional succession planning. We are set to help."

Healy will be joining Foster Swift from the Ferguson Widmayer PC firm in Ann Arbor. His areas of practice include:

- Employee Benefits
- Real Estate
- Taxation

Fedor, Camargo, Weston and Hamor join the firm from former Birmingham-based Fedor Camargo Weston PLC. Founded by Fedor in 2004, the firm focused on matters of:

- Trust & Estate Planning, Administration and Litigation as well as
- Business Planning

ATTORNEYS

Matthew S. Fedor

Robert A. Hamor

PRACTICE AREAS

Administrative Law

Employee Benefits

Estate Planning

Trust & Estate Administration

Trusts & Estates

INDUSTRIES

Real Estate
