

Olney Named as Up and Coming Lawyer for 2019

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

October 17, 2019

Southfield, Mich. – Foster Swift litigator, Rachel Gizicki Olney, has been named a 2019 Up and Coming Lawyer by Michigan Lawyers Weekly. This award is given annually to 30 young attorneys who display the ambition, drive, and determination that sets them apart from their peers—all in their first 10 years of practicing law.

An alumna of Michigan State University for both her undergraduate and law degrees, Rachel is a member of the firm's litigation group and is based in Foster Swift's Southfield office. She focuses her practice on broad range of litigation matters, including first and third party no-fault, insurance defense, business and commercial, and mass tort defense.

A luncheon to celebrate this year's honorees will be held at the Detroit Marriott in Troy on Thursday, December 5.

PRACTICE AREAS

General & Commercial Litigation

Insurance Defense

Mass Tort

No-Fault Litigation