A native Washingtonian, Natanya especially enjoys working with local families. She lives with her husband and two teenage children in Chevy Chase. As time permits, her hobbies include skiing, hiking, time on the Chesapeake, and the visual and performing arts, particularly ballet.

Natanya has dedicated her entire career to estate planning and charitable matters. Regularly recognized by local media and national publications as a leading trusts and estates lawyer, she represents a wide range of clients, including business owners, corporate executives, private investors, professional athletes, public figures, art collectors, and individuals with inherited wealth. Many of Natanyas clients are philanthropists, and she also represents many of the charitable organizations her clients establish and support.

Appreciated both for her technical precision and her ability to explain complex concepts in a straightforward way, Natanya approaches every engagement with empathy, honesty, and pragmatism. She prepares legal documents that achieve her clients goals in a secure, private, and tax-efficient manner, and also provides peace of mind by ensuring her clients fully understand their plans. With estate planning, minor oversights can cause enormous complexity, so she prioritizes all aspects of her clients arrangements, such as probate avoidance, asset protection, marital planning, corporate matters, state income tax (personal and trust), and, of course, estate, gift, and generation-skipping transfer tax planning. If an acronym exists for a personal planning technique QTIP, QDOT, GRAT, QPRT, SLAT, IDGT, SCIN, SNT, xING, FLP, FLLC, ILIT, PPL, CRT, CLT, QSBS, etc.
