IPB partner Jodi Epstein moderated a panel entitled "Working Effectively with Your Stakeholders," at the 2021 Women, Influence & Power in Law (WIPL) conference, in Washington, DC on October 7. Panelists were Valerie Fleming from AAR Corp., Wendy Schick Dougall from AIG, Kate Kaso-Howard from Apple, and Marla Zwas from Truck Hero.

The panel discussed practical means for legal departments to successfully collaborate with both internal and external project and company stakeholders, drawing from their real world experiences.

As part of our demonstrated commitment to women in the legal profession, IPB is proud to be a long-term sponsor of the annual WIPL conference.
