Benjamin L. Grosz was quoted by BenefitsPro in an article discussing the potential impacts of the new DOL fiduciary rule and efforts to eliminate conflicted advice by advisors to their business clients. The article reviews some of the issues that may arise in a "bundled" model for retirement plans, and discusses the potential advantages of professional (and unconflicted) advice for retirement plan tax, legal, and investment issues. Mr. Grosz is quoted advising plan sponsors and businesses to consult with appropriate professional advisors regarding retirement plans.
