Wojciech S. Langowski

Principal

Wojciech Langowski is a Polish licensed legal advisor (radca prawny). He specializes primarily in real estate but his practice covers corporate and commercial matters as well. His experience includes advising on acquisition and sale of property, leases and all property development related issues.

Having been involved in approximately 120 diverse property-related projects, Wojciech has extensive experience in counseling all kinds of players regarding the real estate market in various transactions and development projects, including quite unique and complex ones like takeovers of ongoing development projects or distressed property. That experience gives him the ability to provide clients with comprehensive advice based on expertise of all the intricacies of real estate legal issues combined with a practical understanding of a client's objectives and possible approaches for achieving them in the Polish legal environment.

Recently his practice has focused on commercialization of shopping malls and distribution center projects. In addition, he is well acquainted with day-to-day legal service on behalf of large international companies including all kinds of civil law contracts and corporate actions. He frequently writes about issues relating to real property, commercial and corporate law.
