

Second Annual International Climate Law and Policy Symposium

May 18, 2011

8:00 AM - 1:30 PM

PRINT FRIENDLY AGENDA

Join climate change opinion leaders and global corporate executives to discuss diverse views on cutting edge legal and public policy that is shaping this body of law - and impacting every business and organization.

Agenda:

7:30 AM

Registration - Continental Breakfast

8:30 AM

Welcome - Opening Remarks

Mark J. Bennett, Symposium Chairman; Climate Law Practice Leader, Miller Canfield

8:45 AM

Corporate Sustainability Self-Governance in the Absence of Coherent Public Policy

As Congress, the courts and President Obama struggle to form meaningful public policy, corporations have aggressively undertaken sustainability efforts. The focus of this discussion will be the challenges and opportunities associated with corporate sustainability programs.

Jon W. Allan, Executive Director of Environmental Policy and Intergovernmental Affairs, Consumers Energy

Richard J. Plewa, Senior Vice President & Director, Office of Corporate Sustainability, Comerica Bank

Andrew Mangan, Executive Director, U.S. Business Council for Sustainable Development

Alan Strachan, Vice President, Ygrene Energy

John Bradburn, Senior Environmental Project Engineer, General Motors

10:15 AM

Evolving U.S. Energy Policy in an Era of Political and Economic Uncertainty

While comprehensive energy policy has been sidelined for the near term, there is still considerable movement towards energy policy reform. The panel will discuss the status of current energy legislation and the broader challenges to enacting meaningful structural changes to U.S. energy policy at the Federal and State levels.

Trevor F. Lauer, Vice President, Retail Marketing, DTE Energy

Jim Presswood, Federal Energy Policy Director, Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC)
