2:00 - 3:00 PM (EDT)

Financial loss from employee theft and embezzlement can deliver a substantial blow to an organization. Ironically, mishandling an embezzlement case could set your organization up for a lawsuit or limit your ability to seek reimbursement or restitution, further increasing the damage. This session will help participants learn how to take charge of a bad situation, limit the damage, and increase the likelihood of recovering their losses. Presenters will share actual cases of embezzlement and the factors that contribute to successful prosecution and recovery of losses.
