Grand Valley State University (Eberhard Center)

Event Sponsor: Van Andel Global Trade Center

This one-day conference is developed for executives looking to enter into the growing and exciting market of South Korea. With a population of 51 million people, the Republic of Korea's 1 trillion dollar (USD) economy is export-driven and relies heavily on international trade. Hosted by Van Andel Global Trade Center, the Doing Business in South Korea conference will focus on strategic business practices, tips for building relationships and furthering knowledge regarding imports, exports and investments with South Korea.

Not only will the conference provide valuable insights from a mix of South Korean and U.S. practitioners, attendees will also have the opportunity to schedule, on a limited basis, one-on-one meetings with speakers and join a networking reception immediately following the conference.
