How to Legally Recruit and Retain Talent post-SFFA vs. Harvard

This presentation will focus on measures employers can legally employ to ensure they are recruiting and retaining diverse talent in the wake of the Supreme Court's decision in the SFFA vs. Harvard case. Come learn about the current landscape as it pertains to recent DEI-pushback, the dos and don'ts associated with hiring and retention, and walk away with a better understanding of how to maintain your organization's DEI initiatives without running afoul of state and federal laws.

Ashley Higginson and Erica Jilek

AI is Already in the Workplace – Are you Ready?

The use of AI in the workplace will only continue to grow. Attendees will obtain information surrounding federal guidance and new and emerging employment legislation on generative AI tools. This session will also identify and explore the areas where employers need to consider how AI usage can lead to legal exposure. We will also provide practical guidance and recommendations for creating policies for the workplace concerning use of generative AI.
