

Software Reseller License Advice

Prepared a license agreement between a software reseller and licensor permitting the resale of the licensor's software and providing for application, maintenance and support.