September 18, 2014

Environmental lawyer Matthew Greenberg has joined Miller Canfield as an associate in the Lansing office.

He will assist clients from several industries with all of their complex environmental issues.

Greenberg joins Miller Canfield from Environmental Consulting & Technology in Ann Arbor, Mich., where he was Senior Associate Scientist and Brownfield Redevelopment Specialist. Prior to that, he was in-house counsel and Director of Environmental Services for Mile Rail, LLC, in Kansas City, Mo., a company that provided environmental and railroad services across North America.

Greenberg earned his J.D./M.E.L.P. (2010) from Vermont Law School, and a B.S. (2000) from Michigan State University. He lives in Ferndale, where he is a board member for the city's Brownfield Redevelopment Authority.
