

Miller Canfield International Business Briefing: Establishing a Business Presence in India

September 18, 2006

Michigan and Ontario businesses seeking to improve profitability by establishing operations in India or outsourcing products or services there should attend Miller Canfield's upcoming International Business Briefing, "Establishing a Business Presence in India: Acquisitions, Operations and Outsourcing," on Wednesday, October 18, from 8:30-11:00 a. m. at the Automation Alley International Business Center (2675 Bellingham, Troy, Mich.).

Attendees will hear from an impressive group of professionals who have first-hand experience with doing business in India. The briefing includes a legal overview by Sally A. Hamby, a Miller Canfield corporate attorney in Troy; a discussion on business issues and opportunities for North American companies considering India by Abeezar E. Faizullabohoy, a corporate and foreign investment attorney from J. Sagar Associates in Mumbai, India; and best practices from U.S. business leaders who have expanded into India, given by Varun Vijay Rao, vice president of operations of New York City-based OfficeTiger. Also presenting is Sri Bramadesam, vice president of Troy-based Detroit Engineered Products, which has a subsidiary, Nuvent Technologies, located in India.

This event is co-sponsored by Automation Alley and Miller Canfield. Cost is $25 per person. A continental breakfast is included starting at 8:00 a.m. Please make reservations to Sandy Bera at 248.267.3345 or bera@millercanfield.com.
