

Miller Canfield Grows Financial Services Group

July 1, 2021

Miller Canfield is pleased to announce that Kasturi Bagchi and Alan Aboona have joined the law firm's nationally recognized Financial Institutions Group.

Bagchi is a principal attorney with more than 20 years of experience handling real estate development and finance matters. Previously a partner in Honigman's real estate practice, she counsels and manages risk for clients in loan, real estate and other asset-based transactions. She is licensed in Michigan, California and New Jersey and serves on the Indo American Chamber of Commerce USA Board of Directors.

Aboona is an associate attorney who represents national, regional and local financial institutions in real estate, construction, working capital and equipment financing, including syndicated transactions, tax credit and other government-supported financings and asset-based lending.

"Kas and Alan are outstanding additions to our Financial Institutions Group," said Miller Canfield CEO Megan Norris. "They will add strength and capacity to one of our core practices, for which we have been known since we were founded nearly 170 years ago."

Miller Canfield's Financial Institutions Group provides services across a broad range of legal disciplines, including general and asset-backed transactions, real estate finance, public finance, insolvency, restructuring, workout, foreclosure and bankruptcy services.
