

Miller Canfield Names Four New Principal Attorneys

February 13, 2023

Miller Canfield is pleased to announce that four attorneys have been promoted to principalship. The announcement was made by CEO Megan Norris at the firm's annual meeting.

"Our new principal attorneys have proven themselves to be leaders within the firm and outstanding professionals, each carving out unique niche practices and honing their outstanding legal skills," said Norris. "They are assets to Miller Canfield and our clients."

The firm's new principal attorneys are:

- Joel Bryant, a member of the Litigation and Dispute Resolution Group in the firm's Ann Arbor office
- Christopher Gartman, a member of the Litigation and Dispute Resolution Group in the firm's Grand Rapids office
- Ashley Higginson, a member of the Employment and Labor Group in the firm's Lansing office
- Lana Yaghi, a member of the Corporate and Transactions Group in the firm's Doha, Qatar office, for which she is the co-resident director, and Washington, D.C. office
