

Attorney Returns To Miller Canfield

October 23, 2001

Kristen L. Isaacson has returned to the law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C. as an associate in the Litigation and Dispute Resolution Group in its Detroit office.

She first joined Miller Canfield in 1999, leaving in April 2001 to join Foley & Lardner, where she practiced in the litigation area for five months. "We are delighted that Kristen Isaacson has returned. Although we're a large law firm, we have a close-knit collegiality often reserved for small firms," said Thomas W. Linn, Miller Canfield's CEO.

Ms. Isaacson received her law degree, cum laude, Order of the Coif, from Wayne State University Law School where she was senior articles editor of the Wayne Law Review. Her undergraduate degree is from Michigan State University–James Madison College, where she majored in International Relations, Political Theory, and Constitutional Democracy. She is a member of the American Bar Association, State Bar of Michigan, and the Women Lawyers' Association of Michigan.

She currently resides in Ferndale.

The 260-attorney law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C. , established in Detroit, Michigan in 1852, has offices in Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Howell, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Monroe, Troy, Washington, D.C., New York City, and in Gdynia, Katowice, and Warsaw, Poland; with an affiliated office in Pensacola, Florida. The internet address is www.millercanfield.com.