

Attorney Featured Speaker at American Bar Association Meeting

---

March 20, 2001

Kevin M. McCarthy, a principal and deputy resident director in the Kalamazoo office of the law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C., recently spoke on the topic, Recent Federal Circuit Court Decisions Involving Arbitration at the mid-winter meeting of the American Bar Association Labor Section Committee on Alternate Dispute Resolution in Key West, Florida.

Mr. McCarthy's expertise in labor-related matters makes him a frequently requested speaker at various professional associations in the state and country. He also has published numerous decisions in this area of law.

He received his law degree from The University of Michigan Law School and a B.A. in economics and political science from Kalamazoo College, and is a member of the American Bar Association's Labor and Employment Relations Section (Committee on the Law of Arbitration) and the ABA's Litigation Section Committee on Employment-at-Will Litigation, State Bar of Michigan, Society for Human Resource Management, Michigan Public Employers' Labor Relations Association, and the Industrial Relations Research Association.

He resides in Kalamazoo.

The 260-attorney law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C., established in Detroit, Michigan in 1852, has offices in Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Howell, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Monroe, Troy, Washington, D.C., New York City, and in Gdynia, Katowice, and Warsaw, Poland; with an affiliated office in Pensacola, Florida. The internet address is www.millercanfield.com.