

Miller Canfield Employee Becomes Member of International Honor Society

March 31, 2004

The law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C. announces that Faith M. Heikkila, IT Project Manager in the firm's Kalamazoo office, recently was invited by the Ph.D. Upsilon Pi Epsilon Chapter of Nova Southeastern University and accepted membership in the International Honor Society for Computing Sciences. Members must be in the top third of their class, have a 3.75 grade point average or higher and receive two-thirds of the vote from current members.

At Miller Canfield, Heikkila assists in information technology systems including technology research and recommendations, facilitation of network administration, technical assistance and maintenance of current litigation software. She also is an adjunct professor for Davenport University Online, where she instructs courses in E-Business.

She received her M.S. in Computer Information Systems Management from Ferris State University and her B.S. in Criminal Justice from Grand Valley State University. Currently she is working on her Doctorate in Philosophy in Information Systems from Nova Southeastern University.

She is a member of the Association for Computing Machinery, the Computer Security Institute, GLIMA-Southwest, the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Inc., and West Michigan Association of Information Technology Professionals.

She resides in Kalamazoo, Michigan.

The 300-attorney law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C. was established in Detroit in 1852 and has offices in Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Howell, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Monroe, and Troy, Michigan. Other offices are located in New York City, Pensacola, Florida, Washington, D.C., Windsor, Ontario, and in Gdynia, Katowice, and Warsaw, Poland. Visit www.millercanfield.com.