

Attorney Elected to Serve on the Board of Directors of Jewish Association for Residential Care

July 17, 2000

Ronald E. Hodess, a principal in the Troy office of the law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C., has been elected to serve a three year term on the Board of Directors of JARC, a Jewish Association for Residential Care.

JARC is a Michigan non-profit, non-sectarian organization dedicated to providing homes and services to enable people with developmental disabilities to live full and meaningful lives in the community. It also provides emotional support, education, and advocacy for families with a disabled family member. JARC serves adults and also has a children and family division that provides services to families with disabled children.

Mr. Hodess practices real estate, finance and environmental law.

He received his law degree from Georgetown University Law School and his B.B.A., with distinction, from the University of Michigan. He is also active in the American, Michigan and Oakland County Bar Associations.

He resides in West Bloomfield.

The 260-attorney law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, P.L.C., established in Detroit, Michigan in 1852, has offices in Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Howell, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Monroe, Troy, Washington, D.C., New York City, and in Gdynia, Katowice, and Warsaw, Poland; with an affiliated office in Pensacola, Florida.