Nick is an experienced public agency attorney who advises on a wide range of transactional, land use, and compliance matters, with a special focus on NPDES permitting and stormwater compliance. Nick is the assistant chair of the Environmental Department and Public Law Department at Richards, Watson & Gershon.

WORK FOR CLIENTS

Nick serves as City Attorney for the cities of Rancho Cucamonga, Seal Beach, and Paramount. Nick has previously served as Interim City Attorney for the City of Laguna Niguel. In his capacity as City Attorney, Nick has negotiated development agreements for a variety of projects and advises on all types of CEQA documents.

He serves as General Counsel for the Gateway Water Management Authority and Southeast Water Coalition, two Los Angeles-based joint powers authorities. Nick also provides legal counsel to the Contra Costa Clean Water Program, which administers a county-wide stormwater program on behalf of its member agencies.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

From 2007 through 2010, Nick worked for U.S. Senator Dianne Feinstein as a member of her legislative staff in Washington D.C.

During law school, Nick externed with the Honorable R. Gary Klausner at the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California and clerked for the Office of the Los Angeles City Attorney. He graduated Order of the Coif and was also a Senior Research Editor for the Loyola of Los Angeles Law Review.

EXPERIENCE

HIGHLIGHTED PROJECTS

Nick has substantial experience representing municipal clients on stormwater (MS4) regulation and compliance matters relating to the Clean Water Act and Porter-Cologne Water Quality Control Act. He represented a diverse group of cities in Los Angeles County in litigation involving the 2012 Los Angeles County Stormwater Permit and then advised on the reissuance of the permit in 2021.

Nick assisted the City of Rancho Cucamonga in negotiating a complex real estate transaction to facilitate the development of a privately-owned high-speed rail station at the Cucamonga Metrolink Station. In connection with that transaction, Nick obtained a successful determination that the City's land sale to the high-speed rail developer is exempt from the Surplus Land Act.

Nick has been involved in drafting and negotiating agreements for major development and public works projects, including agreements between the City of Beverly Hills and the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority governing construction of the Purple Line Subway Extension.
