

Infrastructure Projects

RWG lawyers have decades of experience advising public agencies on all types of acquisitions for infrastructure projects, including temporary, partial, and full acquisitions. We represent public agencies on the acquisition of property for public facilities, road widening and extension projects, street realignments, freeway interchange projects, grade separation projects, light rail expansion projects, storm drain projects, flood control projects, water transmission lines, and sewer lines. RWG lawyers advise public agencies regarding applicable state and federal regulations on projects involving federal funds, projects with Caltrans oversight, and on Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) and Federal Transit Administration (FTA) requirements. Public agencies rely on RWG to help them acquire the necessary rights-of-way to meet certification and funding deadlines and for timely commencement of construction.
