Michael Silver, a partner in Shutts & Bowen LLP's Tampa office, was recently interviewed for a Voyage Tampa profile piece, featured in their 'Hidden Gems' series, discussing his personal background, professional journey, and role within the firm.

In the interview, Michael discusses how his legal career developed, what inspired him to pursue law, and his work handling business litigation matters such as contract disputes, business torts, real estate disputes, and insurance litigation. The interview also explores his involvement in the Tampa Bay community, as well as leadership activities, like participating in local initiatives that support professional growth and civic engagement. In addition, Michael shares insights into his philosophy, motivations, and the values that guide his approach to both his practice and community contributions.

In a personal reflection, Michael notes, "I am grateful to have great colleagues at my law firm, as well as an incredible family, caring friends, and supportive mentors. One does not achieve success alone, and I am very lucky to have had so many people invested in my professional and personal success."
