

Shutts & Bowen Honored for Real Estate Industry Excellence by Daily Business Review

Daily Business Review

12.1.20

Shutts & Bowen LLP today announced its selection as a 'Best Of' award winner in the real estate category by the Daily Business Review.

The Daily Business Review developed its annual 'Best Of' survey to help its readers select outstanding legal products and service providers by recognizing companies for innovation and excellence. This annual award marks the first time in which law firms have been included in the award selection process conducted by the national legal brand behind Law.com.

Shutts' 'Best Of' award win joins previous industry honors for the Real Estate Practice Group, including being ranked "National Tier 1" in real estate law by U.S. News – Best Lawyers as well as high rankings from Chambers & Partners. Additionally, multiple members of the firm's real estate team have been recognized by Super Lawyers and Florida Trend, and several of our attorneys are Florida Bar Board Certified in Real Estate Law.

The firm has a long history of helping its clients navigate the myriad issues that emerge in the dynamic, fast-paced world of real estate, serving as trusted counselors – from first assessment to final sale. As real estate attorneys with decades of experience, they pride themselves on partnering with commercial and residential developers, financiers, builders, contractors and others conducting business in the real estate arena. The Real Estate Practice Group counsels clients throughout the state of Florida, and also serve as trusted advisors to major companies in national and international markets.

The firm's statewide practice handles projects such as residential and condominium developments, office buildings, shopping centers, industrial parks, hotels and resorts, golf courses, hospitals and manufacturing plants. We also bring knowledge and experience in finance, corporate law, litigation, tax and other areas.
