Miami partner Alexander Tachmes was recently quoted in The Real Deal and the South Florida Business Journal about a new town hall and civic center proposed for Surfside.

The proposal, submitted by Pointe Development Group and Monceau Realty Group, calls for a ground lease between the town and the developer. Pointe Development and Monceau would finance construction of the $33.5 million development with about $10 million of their own equity and a construction loan for the rest, Alex said.

The proposal, which includes a new police station, Class A office space, retail and restaurant space and public parking, will be considered by the commission in late September.
