11.16.16

Fort Lauderdale partner Edward O'Sheehan was selected as the Florida Army National Guard's Staff Judge Advocate (SJA) by Major General Michael A. Calhoun, the Adjutant General of Florida. This appointment ranks him as the top military attorney for the Florida Army National Guard and legal advisor to Major General Calhoun.

"Ed's demonstrated skill as both a litigator and ethics counselor makes him the right choice for this important position," said Major General Calhoun in a Florida National Guard Leadership Announcement. "I know he will excel in this important assignment."

Ed, a Lieutenant Colonel, began his service with the Florida Army National Guard in 1993. In 1996, he received a direct commission into the Judge Advocate General Corps and transferred to the 53rd Infantry Brigade. Ed has served as both the Trial Counsel and Deputy Staff Judge Advocate for the 53rd Infantry Brigade. Upon his return from serving in Afghanistan, he served as the Command Judge Advocate for the 50th Area Support Group. In August 2011, Ed was assigned as the Senior Defense Counsel, 1565th Trial Defense Team in St. Augustine, Fla., his last assignment prior to his appointment as Staff Judge Advocate.
